COVID Guidelines

We are currently considered a Red County, meaning that all of our programming through at least December 23rd is to be virtual. There are many counties across the state with this same designation. Even if you are not having an in person meeting or workshop --4-H can still happen for you. Your projects all begin at home and family involvement is important. Christmas break is a great time to write down project goals and look for new learning experiences. At the end of the year, with recordbooks, we ask you How has your project changed and grown? Start working now, if you haven't already, to make those changes and grow your projects.
